QUANTITIES AND WEIGHTS

Quantities of seeds required per acre, while varying somewhat in various sections, largely depend on vitality. Soil, climate conditions and time of seeding have some bearing.

SEED MARKETS:

Due to the lightest carryover in years, plus stocks taken for Lend-Lease, plus abnormally low production in practically every section of the country, and in some sections entire commercial and seed crop failures, the value of all seeds has advanced. However, the advance in cost of seeding an acre is not out of proportion, or even equal to, the increased value of the crop produced; especially when we consider that one seeding of Alfalfa, Clover, and many other grasses, lasts over a period of many years.

Encourage your customers to buy seed of definitely known origin and quality. This is true economy. If you recommend and sell Chieftain and Warrior Brands, you are putting your seed business on a substantial foundation and building a permanent business.

Our fifty-eight years of Reliability is our best argument. We sell only verified origin and registered alfalfa seeds.

Early High Yielding Strains Montana Grown and Adapted SEED CORN

At the State Seed Corn Show this year it was conclusively shown that careful intelligent selection over a period of years could and did improve quality, maturity, and increase yields many bushels per acre.

Our seed stocks are not simply bought in as commercial corn but they have been carefully grown and selected by ourselves for over eight consecutive years and we feel positive that the yield and quality results of your customers using our seed corn stocks will demonstrate it to be the most economical corn they can plant.

Hybrid Corn—Montana-Wealth—90—Montana Grown	6.00

Our Montana-Wealth offered from Billings is one of the earliest, best yielding corns possible to breed for this northwest district. This early hybrid, grown in Montana for four successive years of field tests has proven itself to be a superior yellow dent for Montana and northern Wyoming. The RETAIL price is set at $8.00 per bushel, plus transportation costs, thus a wholesale cost of $6.00 Billings allows the dealer 20 per cent.
